

ARE YOU AN AMBASSADOR OF JAZZ?

Jazzhus Montmartre is looking for volunteers to help distribute flyers, handle tickets and sales and various tasks on concert nights – in general, to give our customers and visiting musicians the best experience in town.

You are the perfect candidate if you are service-minded, have a strong work discipline and can work independently. You know how to take initiative (or you are quick to react) and you always answer with a smile.
If you love jazz, we love you too!

Working hours varies between flexible daytime hours and 6 hours duty shifts on concert nights.

As a volunteer at Jazzhus Montmartre you will get free access to concerts and become part of a big jazz-loving family! It is a great opportunity to experience world class jazz, and get insight into the music business and concert organizing.

Find out more about us at www.jazzhusmontmartre.dk or if you have questions, call us at phone number 333 29 666. But most importantly, send us your résumé and a few words on your interest of volunteering for Jazzhus Montmartre to kristina@jazzhusmontmartre.dk.

Jazzhus Montmartre is Copenhagen's prime jazz club for world class live jazz. From 1959 to 1976 Montmartre was one of the leading jazz venues in the world that attracted great American artists like Ben Webster, Ed Thigpen, Stan Getz, Kenny Drew and Dexter Gordon to relocate their life to Copenhagen. In May 2010 Jazzhus Montmartre re-opened after 34 years in the original legendary premises in "Store Regnegade" (Great Rain Street).
